ANAYET ULLAH

My name is Anayet Ullah and i am a full-stack developer having a great interest in Full-Stack Development currently studying in Computer science and Technology, Daffodil Technical Institute. However, being extremely passionate about the IT industry, I decided to do a Diploma in Engineering to learn technology hands-on. With the rapidly changing trends, I always look forward to learning new concepts, adapting to new technologies, and working on my problem-solving skills to stay relevant in the industry.
